

N. C. A. A. TO CO-OPERATE WITH OLYMPIC BODY FOR PARIS GAMES

LOOK TO COLLEGE ATHLETES TO UPHOLD U. S. PRESTIGE

N. C. A. A. Joins American Olympic Association After Plea By Gen. Pierce—Conference Moves for Better Sportsmanship—Penalties Suggested for Abusive Language on Diamond.

By Joseph Gordon.

AN important action taken by the National Collegiate Athletic Association at its seventeenth annual convention at the Hotel Astor yesterday was acceptance of the invitation extended more than a year ago by the American Olympic Association to join that body and co-operate with it in furthering and improving plans for the Olympic classic at Paris. This step is virtually a peace agreement between the Collegiate Association and the Amateur Athletic Union, whose part control over the American Olympic Association was one of the chief reasons why the N. C. A. A. turned down an opportunity to become a member of the A. O. A. at its annual convention last year.

Credit for this action, so important to American athletics, is due largely to Gen. Palmer A. Pierce, President of the Collegiate Association, whose diplomatic handling of the situation averted a repetition of last year's meeting, when a resolution to join the A. O. A. met with protest. President Pierce, who was re-elected to the Presidency of the association for the fifteenth time, explained to the delegates the changes which had been made in the constitution of the American Olympic Association, and his resolution that they become a member of that body was passed unanimously.

Plans for the Olympic Games will now go forward unhindered. America will, as in the past, depend largely on the college athlete to uphold the prestige of American athletics in the Olympics. As it was pointed out by President Pierce, since 1896 69 per cent of the athletes who won first in the Olympic Games were college men, and they formed the backbone of the team sent over for international competition.

The trend regarding college athletics and its relation to university life in general and studies in particular, was illustrated in a speech by Dr. S. V. Sanford, University of Georgia. He attacked the growing tendency of the smaller colleges, whose "glowing ambition" to play in large cities, before large assemblies and against powerful teams was a detriment, in his opinion, to education in the United States.

INTERCOLLEGIATE COMPETITION FOR FRESHMEN URGED.
In keeping with the ideas presented by Dr. Sanford, several delegates advocated elimination of intercollegiate competition for freshmen. They argued that the student's mind should at least for the first year be devoted to study, as the excitement and strife created by intercollegiate games detracted from their attention from classes.

The resolution to eliminate intercollegiate competition for freshmen was passed on to the Executive Committee. An agency will be established by the association to deal with professionalism. That, in the opinion of President Pierce, is the only way to meet the problem effectively. According to his report, a great deal of professionalism has been wiped out within the past year and he sees hope of eventually eradicating it from college athletics, if properly handled.

Presiding, Gen. Pierce said, was something that could never entirely be wiped out. The spirit of the old "Grid" for his Alma Mater is too great, and his devotion to it too strong, he said, to prevent him from urging an athletically gifted young friend who is contemplating a college career that his college is better than any other in the United States.

Plans for cleaner baseball, better sportsmanship and more consideration for opposing players are among the things that the committee will study and report on.

PENALTIES ARE SUGGESTED FOR ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.
Dr. Phillips of Amherst, in reporting on college baseball, suggested a radical departure to bring about more sportsmanlike conduct in intercollegiate games. Saying that football with its close physical contact was better mannered than baseball, he urged the adoption of the following rules to prevent abusive talk or in any case to provide a proper punishment:

"For any unsportsmanlike language or action by any player of the team which is in the field the umpire shall call a ball on the pitcher. If it is the fourth ball he should declare the batsman entitled to a base.

"For any unsportsmanlike language or action by any player on the side at bat the umpire shall call a strike on the batsman. If it is the third strike he shall call the batsman out."

This was far too radical for the delegates and after some discussion the question was referred to the Executive Committee with instructions to report back next year.

The Committee on Resolutions reported that it seemed desirable that the association reiterate its belief in certain fundamental principles and offered the following resolution:

1. The organization of more sectional conferences.
2. That amateurism as defined by this association be taught and strictly adhered to.
3. The general adoption of the freshman rule.
4. That each conference adopt a strict rule against playing on a professional basis.
5. That participation in intercollegiate sports be for a period of three years.
6. That participation be decided by a majority vote.
7. That this association deem it had policy to have intercollegiate contests between freshmen teams.
8. That playing on any team other than one representing his own institution, whether in term time or vacation, be prohibited except by faculty consent and under strict supervision.

9. That the whole moral force of faculty and athletic organizations be directed toward suppressing the betting evil.

10. Absolute faculty control. Section seven was rather too big a dose for the delegates to swallow at once. Most of the colleges and universities in the East arrange schedules in baseball and football for their freshmen teams and many present were not convinced that restrictive measures were essential.

To meet this objection the clause was taken out and referred to the Executive Committee for further investigation, following which the resolution was adopted by unanimous vote.

Dr. Habbitt of Haverford, in reporting as Chairman of the Central Board of Officials, said that 1,122 appointments of officials had been made last fall to seventy-one colleges which always take the service, and to forty-seven others which take it occasionally. This showed the scope of the undertaking.

L. W. St. John, in reporting for the Basketball Committee, told of the increase in popularity of that game, and as an example pointed out that $6,000 copies of the Basketball Guide had been distributed this year, and that the number would certainly reach 100,000 next year.

A resolution to join the National Amateur Athletic Federation, which by the way will meet in the Hotel Astor this morning, also was carried by unanimous vote.

Fred Luehring, in reporting for swimming, said that twenty-one colleges took it up as an intercollegiate sport for the first time this year and that it was growing in favor by leaps and bounds.

Major Griffith, in the absence of Director Stetson of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, reported on track and field athletics, and said that the games under the direction of the association in Chicago last June were a financial success, as $9,000 was taken in at the gate, which covered all expenses and left a balance of $1,600.

The games next year will be held in Chicago, and the association expects that these games had served to lend a stimulus to track and field athletics, particularly through the Middle West.

TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES AT DINNER AT ASTOR.
About two hundred delegates attended a dinner at the Hotel Astor last evening as the closing feature of the conference.

The speakers were Col. Henry Breckenridge, former Assistant Secretary of War, and President of the National Amateur Athletic Federation; acting President Stephen A. Olin of Wesleyan University, and Fielding Yost, Athletic Director of the University of Michigan.

President Olin traced the development of the athletics from the days of Ancient Greece to the present time, pointing out that the athletes of all ages have contributed greatly to civilization, and that international law grew out of negotiations between the Grecian States for the Olympic games.

Col. Breckenridge outlined the aims of the new National Amateur Athletic Federation of America, an organization which has for its purpose the improvement of the physical conditions of the Nation. He pointed out that although this country is rich in material things and in ability for organization, the draft examinations showed that one-half of the men between the ages of 21 and 25 were physically deficient.

Fielding Yost recalled that seventeen years ago the Western Conference, upon his suggestion, had attacked the tramp athlete problem with a one-year residence rule and added the freshmen rule, and a clean entrance record. These rulings, he said, have turned the tramp athlete toward other employments and had proved "the greatest salvation and protection to intercollegiate athletics" of the Mid-West, he said.

REDUCE WEIGHT LIMIT FOR FAT MEN'S RACE.
At a meeting of the executive committee of the Municipal Athletic Activities yesterday it was decided to reduce the weight limit for the fat men's race for the games on Jan. 15 to 210 pounds.

A thorough canvass of the various city departments failed to find many men at that weight. In these days, when most every one participates in athletics, men with large girths are scarce.

Assistant Chief Crowley of the Fire Department appointed a number of scouts to visit the Fire Department houses and they were successful in securing several candidates. It is believed that the Police Department has a large number of entries for this race.

CHAPES AND SCHAPIRO DRAW.
Gus Chapes and Morris A. Schapiro contested the fifth game of their match at the rooms of the Manhattan Chess Club yesterday. It resulted in a draw after twenty-nine moves, through a repetition of the move (play on the part of Schapiro, who preferred not to risk complications. Chapes had the white pieces in an English opening. The result was a draw. Chapes, 1; Schapiro, 1; Draw, 2.

BULLER SCORES N. O.
NATHAN, Pa. Dec. 28.—Sud Buller, English lightweight, won from young Baker of this city, by a knockout in the fifth round of a scheduled ten-round bout.

Historic Bets on American Tracks

John Drake Won a Million Dollars in Single Season on English Turf.

The following is the fifteenth of a series of articles on big bets on the turf. How "Chicago" O'Brien ran a trowel into a million will be printed on these pages tomorrow.

John A. Drake of Chicago won a million dollars on the English turf in a single season—more than any man ever won in one year on the turf. John W. Gates, who spent half the season with Drake in England, won half a million. The success of Drake and Gates led to an outbreak from Lord Durham against the alleged demoralization of the English turf by American betting men. "Do American trainers doctor their horses?" was a favorite topic in the British newspapers at the time and the discussion caused such a stir that the stewards began an investigation of the methods of Enoch Wishard, Drake's trainer.

The result was the complete exonerating of both Drake and Wishard. Mr. Drake had his own stable of racers in England. He started the Britishers by winning fourteen races with fourteen entries. It had never been done.

"How much have I won?" said Mr. Drake at the end of the season, when about to start for home. "I don't know myself. I placed a racing fund of $50,000 in Enoch Wishard's hands, and paid him 25 per cent. of the winnings, besides his salary. If I have achieved anything wonderful over here in the way of racing there is little credit due to me. Enoch Wishard did it all. It is simply due to his scientific training combined with hard work."

"I am taking to America eight English cups, including the Prince of Wales, Doncaster, Royal Hunt and Stewards. The latter was won by me."

How to Play Basketball

World's Greatest Player Will Explain Every Feature.

NAT HOLMAN, world's leading basketball player, Original Celtics star and author of "Scientific Basketball," will explain every angle of the game in a series of articles, with pictures and diagrams, starting next Tuesday, Jan. 2, in The Evening World.

The series will cover offense and defense, how to play individual positions, passing, goal shooting, winning plays, and tips on training and coaching.

The series will be as valuable as a prize coach and New York's many thousands of players should not miss this chance to improve their game.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAMS IN TOURNEY FOR SILVER CUP

Opening Game To-Night at Commonwealth Casino—Best Fives in East to Play.

A tournament for girls' basketball teams has been arranged and the first game is scheduled for to-night at the Commonwealth Casino, 121st Street and Madison Avenue. The best girls' teams in the East will participate. Blue Belt girls are recognized as the probable winners, but must play seven quints as the New York Deers. Mystery Five of New Jersey and the Silver V's in the competition for the three cup which is to be donated to the winner.

Both of the girls' teams of the New York Academy of Business are regarded as dangerous by the other combinations. Under the coaching of M. Cisco the two quints have been playing exceptionally well. With the entrance of the Oriental Girls of New Rochelle, Salem Crescent girls and the Bee Square Girls of Englewood, N. J., there will be sixteen teams in the tournament.

The Chicago Defenders, rated as probably the greatest basketball team in the West are enroute for their engagement here Sunday, when they tackle the undefeated Commonwealth Big Five at Commonwealth Casino. Like their opponents, the Defenders have not suffered defeat this season, which forecasts a stiff basketball argument.

Montauk Circle defeated the High-wick Times Five by a score of 25 to 22. Hale starred for the winners and Roid featured for the Times.

The return Interborough League game between the Starling Grays and the Franklin Club will take place to-morrow night at the Franklin Club. Franklins won the last game by a margin of three points and the Grays are out for revenge. Franklin Club will line up with Welsh, Storey, Berger, Masterson, Klein, Freeman and Blum. The Starlings will have Kelly, Herfeller, Anderson, Mann, Gordon Westrup and McInerney.

To-night at Lexington Hall, Mount Vernon C. B. C. Five by a tally of 25 to 12. The game was never in doubt since the winners were in the lead from start to finish.

CENTRE ELEVEN BOOKS SEVEN GRID GAMES

DANVILLE, Ky., Dec. 28.—Seven of the ten games on the 1922 schedule for the Centre College eleven definitely had been determined to-day. To-day's announcement indicated the Colonels probably would be idle on Thanksgiving. Games arranged were: Clemson at Danville, Oct. 12; University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, Oct. 27; University of Kentucky at Danville, Nov. 2; Sewanee at Memphis, Nov. 10; Auburn at Birmingham, Nov. 17; Washington and Lee at Danville, Nov. 24; Georgia at Athens, Ga., Dec. 1. Kenyon College of Ohio was considered a strong bidder for one of the three remaining games.

MAXWELL WINS FROM KEATING AT 19TH HOLE

PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 28.—Norman H. Maxwell of Philadelphia, former North and South champion, and William Reekie of Upper Montclair, former New Jersey titleholder, leading favorites in the midwinter golf tournament at Pinehurst, won their first-round matches yesterday and will oppose each other to-day.

Maxwell defeated F. T. Keating of New York at the nineteenth hole of a hard fought uphill battle, and Reekie created more or less of a sensation by winning against Morton L. Weezy, the medalist, by the surprising margin of 4 up and 5 to play.

Reekie went out in 36 against Peavey, and with the help of a birdie 4 on the first hole and a birdie 3 on the third, was 4 up at the turn. The Jersey expert was even four when the match came to an end on the thirtieth green.

The Maxwell-Keating affair, on the other hand, was one of the closest and most exciting contests that has been staged here in many moons, and led up to a fitting climax on the nineteenth green, where Keating went down a stroke under par and Maxwell won the hole and the match with a brilliant eagle 2.

The card:

JERSEY BOY REACHES FINAL IN GOLF TOURNEY

PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 28.—Forbes Wilson of Worcester, twelve years old, and George Y. Dunlap Jr. of Summit, thirteen years, 56, favorites in the third annual junior championship tournament at Pinehurst, won their matches yesterday's semi-final round and will meet in the trophy contest to-day. Yesterday's matches were nine-hole affairs, played on the No. 3 course.

That $1,000 Reward Remains Unclaimed

Some time back we found it necessary to strenuously protest against those who found it to their interests to stem the wide public approval that met our efforts to deal direct with the public, by causing to be published broadcast the following statement:—

$1,000 REWARD—This sum will be paid to any person or persons furnishing information that will substantiate a suit at law, either civil or criminal, against any individual or individuals responsible for any false statement of fact against this firm, particularly as follows: 1.—That we are not clothing manufacturers. 2.—That we cannot sell below usual retail store prices. 3.—That we do not refund any or every dissatisfied patron's purchase money on demand. 4.—That the woollens we use are not 100 per cent. pure. 5.—That we were not intimidated and threatened by certain retail clothing interests in our efforts to sell direct to the public. (Signed) Finkelstein & Maisel.

Lately, and with studied persistency apparently, the old canards have been revived and sent forth on their errand of malice, but with extra emphasis on the $1,000 reward.

Therefore, we feel called upon to herewith renew the above reward, with every assurance to the thousands of friends we have made, and the public in general, that Finkelstein & Maisel are really clothing manufacturers, offering clothing values that are exceedingly extraordinary—sensational, in fact.

Incidentally, and by way of emphasizing this point, we announce these further extraordinary reductions:

All Suits Reduced 20%
All Overcoats Reduced 15%

This makes the new scale of prices on suits made of fine wool serges, worsted, tweeds, etc., $19.60, $23.60, $26.40, $30.00, $31.60 and $26.40, our Special Leader two-trouser suits.

On overcoats, belted and unbelted ulsters, Chesterfield and other latest models, the new prices are $20.83, $25.08, $28.05, $31.68 and $33.58.

So much for the prices, remarkable in the extreme, needless to say. But what about the cut, trimmings, finish and the many little things so essential in a suit or overcoat that the average good dresser demands, but can only obtain at big cost?

That's the important point we want you to bear in mind. Verily, seeing is believing, in this instance. You must see and wear a Finkelstein & Maisel suit or overcoat to truly appreciate their real value, with our guarantee to refund your money instantly, if you feel dissatisfied in any particular.
